SIXTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1943 REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF FINE ARTS

To the President and the Governing Members of The Art Institute of Chicago:

THIS year at the Art Institute was deeply saddened for all of us by the loss of our President, Potter Palmer, who died on September 3. From the official Resolutions adopted by the Trustees I quote the following significant paragraphs:

For eighteen years he guided the destinies of this institution with quiet, unselfish devotion, great skill, and profound understanding. Under his wise administrative hand Chicago saw its art museum grow from a gallery of local interest to an educational center of world-wide fame.

Born in an atmosphere of artistic tradition, he had unusual opportunities of knowing and appreciating art. He early showed interest in the museum. In 1900 he became a Life Member and was elected a Trustee in 1925. In 1922 he was made a Benefactor and in 1925 succeeded Charles L. Hutchinson, becoming our fourth President. In 1938 he was also named Director pro tem, a position he occupied but a few months, yet it allowed him even closer contact with the museum's many-sided problems. He met all such problems with rare penetration and tact. A man of practical affairs, he treated each situation realistically but always with an innate sympathy which greatly endeared him to his colleagues.

His firm leadership, illuminated by a rare sense of humor, was ever tempered by his respect for the opinions and the aspirations of others and was equalled only by his generosity in bestowing credit on all those who worked with him. He knew how to create and to maintain the spirit of unity.

His breadth of art interests is evidenced by his many generous gifts to different departments of the museum. He gave, as well, constantly of himself, unsparingly and tirelessly. He was modest and unassuming, but his counsel formed our policies and directed our progress. With his loss, we realize how much Potter Palmer meant, not only to us, but to the larger cause of art in Chicago and in the world.

On October 28, 1943, the Trustees chose Mr. Chauncey McCormick as Vice-President, Presiding, and during the interim Mr. McCormick has guided the Institute with a skill and sympathy born of many years' intimate experience with the museum. During 1943 three new members were added to the Board: Chester Dale, John A. Holabird and Everett D. Graff. Mr. Dale is known everywhere for his collections of modern painting and Mr. Holabird is a member of the famous firm of Holabird and Root, Chicago architects. He had previously served as a Trustee from 1925 to 1934, resigning in 1934 at the time of an architectural competition for an addition to the Art Institute. Mr. Graff is the President of Joseph T. Ryerson and Son, Incorporated, is a collector of paintings and Americana and has served as a member of the Committee on Painting and Sculpture since 1942.

During the war various changes in personnel are inevitable. To date thirty-four staff members are serving either in the armed services or on assignments in Washington. Among them is the former Dean of the School, Norman L. Rice, now a Lieutenant in the Navy, whose position has been filled by Hubert Ropp as Acting Dean. Mr. Ropp has reorganized the School in terms of war-time economy and its remarkable increase in enrollment (36% over 1942) is due as much to his energetic administration as to increased income among students and parents. Mrs. Katharine Kuh, appointed to fill the office of Public Relations counsel, left vacant through the enlistment of Lieutenant Lester B. Bridaham in the Navy, has carried on the work of this department excellently, during a period when paper shortages and war news have made publicity for the art museum difficult to secure.

Much to be regretted are certain staff resignations. Miss Helen C. Gunsaulus, since 1926 Assistant Curator of Oriental Art and Keeper of The Buckingham Collection of Japanese Prints, retired in 1943. Miss Gunsaulus is a recognized authority on Japanese wood-block prints and it is comforting to know that the Institute will not entirely lose her valuable services. As Honorary Keeper of The Buckingham Collection of Japanese Prints, part of her time will be devoted to compiling a monumental Catalogue of the Buckingham Collection which the Institute expects to publish as an outstanding contribution in this field. Her position as Keeper of the Buckingham Collection of Japanese Prints has been capably filled by Miss Margaret O. Gentles. Miss Helen F. Mackenzie served from 1926 to 1940 as Curator of the Children's Museum. When that department was changed into The Gallery of Art Interpretation, Miss Mackenzie became its first Curator, arranging a series of stimulating exhibits whose fame has gone far beyond Chicago. She retired this year but has not wholly severed her ties with the Institute and is engaged in preparing certain popular and much needed handbooks. Mrs. Katharine Kuh has been appointed the new Curator of the Gallery of Art Interpretation. After fifty-four years of gracious and devoted service to the Art Institute, Miss Grace M. Williams resigned her duties at the desk of the Information Department. Miss Margaret Wareing has been appointed to take her place.

I shall not repeat details of acquisition and activity included in the various departmental reports, all of which point to an able and well-knit staff, working hard during these last twelve months where curtailments of personnel have created many difficult situations. The devotion and harmonious spirit of these staff members are gratefully recorded by the Directors.

A few exceptional facts may be mentioned. The outstanding event in the Department of Painting and Sculpture was the long-term loan of fifty-one twentieth century French paintings from the celebrated collection of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dale. With the Dale Collection in the Institute we become the preeminent gallery of French modern art, not only in the United States but also in the world. Nowhere else can the visitor enjoy so superb a sequence of French painting from Delacroix to Picasso.

The most important single gift of the season was the lovely Education of Cupid by Titian which is now a part of the Charles H. and Mary F. S. Worcester Collection. These generous and understanding donors have year after year presented a series of works illustrating great masters and schools which would otherwise not be represented in Chicago.

The most important purchase of the year was a collection of twenty-four remarkable medieval objects (in gold and enamel) for the Lucy Maud Buckingham Memorial. These rare examples of medieval craftsmanship, dating from the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, are to be installed in the gallery given by Miss Kate S. Buckingham in memory of her sister.

It is satisfying to note that the Art Institute, in spite of transportation curtailments, has practically maintained the same attendance as in 1942. Many visitors are in the Army and Navy. For their relaxation and comfort, Walter S. Brewster, our Trustee, who is Head of the Armed Services Program, arranged a special Lounge where soldiers and sailors may smoke, read, write letters and rest. The success of this innovation has been highly gratifying as the varied comment in the visitors' book shows.

Early in 1943 Charles Fabens Kelley, the Assistant Director, organized a program of Arts and Skills in connection with the National Red Cross, to aid in the rehabilitation of war sick and wounded. This work carried on at the United States Naval Hospital, Great Lakes, Illinois, and Gardiner General United States Army Hospital, Chicago, with volunteer teaching by trained Chicago artists and craftsmen, has not only done its part in helping a number of boys to recover health and equilibrium but has discovered an unusual amount of talent among the patients.

Meanwhile the Institute, through its special free gallery tours, its Art in War exhibitions and indeed in all of its vital departments has been contributing its share to the winning of the war not only in help and advice to various war agencies but in assisting the maintenance of citizen morale. It has not found it wise to go too far afield for exhibitions and displays which do not have specific art content. There are specialized museums in our city to teach citizens what science and industry are contributing to the war and historical collections to illustrate the vitality of the American tradition. We believe that the art museum can best serve the public at this time by emphasizing art, not in any rarefied sense but as a part of broad human activity. With this ideal in mind, the Art Institute has not slackened its vigorous program of acquisition and exhibition and is already looking ahead to the post-war years for ways to extend its service to each part of the city. We believe that such a plan, generous in outline and realistic in point of view, deserves the continuing support of every Chicago citizen.

REPORTS OF THE DEPARTMENTS FOR 1943

PAINTING AND SCULPTURE

DURING the past year this department has enjoyed a continuous growth both from gifts and from purchases. Of the forty-one new acquisitions thirteen are paintings, twenty-one water colors, and seven are pieces of sculpture.

Unquestionably at the top of the list is the Education of Cupid, a distinguished late work by Titian presented by Mrs. Worcester to be a part of the Charles H. and Mary F. S. Worcester Collection.

Honoré Palmer has presented Domestic Scene, a delightful Dutch interior attributed to Egdon van der Neer. From Mrs. Arthur T. Aldis comes a Landscape by Arthur B. Davies and the Head of a Girl, an early work by Giorgio de Chirico. A portrait of a man by Claude Dubufe, the nineteenth century French artist, is the gift of Samuel W. Weis.

The Society for Contemporary American Art donated Julian Levi's Wellfleet Harbor from their Third Annual Exhibition.

An outstanding work of Samuel F. B. Morse, the portrait of Gouverneur Morris, was purchased from the Cyrus H. McCormick Fund.

Through the Friends of American Art (Goodman Fund) the department acquired On the Seine, a charming landscape by Homer D. Martin, and an exceptionally fine landscape by Sidney Laufman.

From the Georgia O'Keeffe Exhibition we purchased Black Cross, New Mexico, one of her most distinguished works.

Salvador Dali's Inventions of the Monsters, an important recent painting, was acquired for the Winterbotham Collection.

Carter H. Harrison presented ten water colors and pastels to the department, notable among which are works by Mary Cassatt, Georges Rouault, and Karl Hofer.

Fisherman's Family, a water color by Puvis de Chavannes, is the gift of Charles H. Worcester and Peasant with Wheelbarrow by Bastien-Lepage, a gift of Honoré Palmer.

Seven water colors were purchased from the Olivia Shaler Swan Fund: Pierre Bonnard's Preparation for Lunch; Paul Klee's Garden on Ruins; John Marin's Cape Split, Maine; William Fetter's The Sun Seed; Boardman Robinson's Richard Bone, an illustration for the Spoon River Anthology; Andrew Wyeth's Coot Hunter; and Dong Kingman's Passing Locomotive. Two other water colors were acquired as purchase prizes: Adolf Dehn's

Winter Day in Key West and Thomas Craig's Room 18, Virginia City, from the Watson F. Blair Fund.

An important example of fifteenth century polychromed wood sculpture, the bust of St. Margaret by Nicolaus Gerhaert von Leyden, was purchased from the Robert Alexander Waller Memorial Fund.

A fine bronze relief entitled Babassu came as an anonymous gift and is the work of the noted Brazilian sculptress, María Martíns. Another anonymous gift was the Rape of Europa, a bronze by Jacques Lipchitz.

One of the most outstanding pieces of contemporary American sculpture, Gaston Lachaise's Standing Woman, was acquired through the Friends of American Art. A portrait head of Carl Van Vechten by the same artist was the gift of the sitter.

An outstanding group of fifty-one twentieth century French paintings was installed in Galleries 38, 39, and 40 as an indefinite loan from Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dale. This includes famous works by Picasso, Braque, Matisse, Modigliani, and other leaders of French modernism.

A comprehensive exhibition of the work of Georgia O'Keeffe was a feature of the winter exhibitions. Religious Folk Art of the Spanish Southwest lent by the Taylor museum, Colorado Springs, was also a significant part of this series.

A group of recent paintings by Edward Hopper was given a special gallery in the Annual American Exhibition.

Dorothy Odenheimer Bridaham resigned her position as Research Assistant in March to join her husband who is a Lieutenant in the Navy. Her place has been taken by Miss Florence Hope, a recent graduate of Radcliffe.

ORIENTAL ART

IN wartime we are not surprised at curtailed activities and expect to operate with greatly reduced personnel.

The Oriental Department has experienced these routine symptoms of war and yet has much of profit and interest to report.

Our casualties amount to fifty per cent. Miss Gunsaulus, who came to the Art Institute in 1926 as Keeper of Japanese Prints and was for thirteen years Assistant Curator and later also Keeper of Buckingham Japanese Prints, resigned last April. Miss Odell, research associate, has been borrowed by the government to translate Chinese maps for the Army. A great part of the Curator's time has been given to conducting the Arts and Skills program in military hospitals for the Red Cross. It is therefore unnecessary to state that an enormous proportion of departmental work has fallen on the capable shoulders of Miss Gentles, and the public consequently is unaware that the department is on a wartime basis.

Accessions have been gratifying. At the head we must put the varied and useful collection presented by Professor MacNair, a witness to the devotion to Chinese culture of the late Mrs. MacNair and himself.

Mrs. John J. Abbott gave some stunning Chinese costumes as a memorial to her husband, and Mrs. Henry C. Schwab added a number of Japanese items to her husband's magnificent bequest.

Russell Tyson as usual has given several outstanding ceramic objects, among them one of the finest T'ang horses that has ever come out of China.

Among the exhibitions the replicas of Indian Cave paintings by Sarkis Katchadourian attracted the greatest attention, but the contemporary Chinese paintings by Professor Chang Shu-Chi and his demonstration of Chinese technique packed the gallery on several Sunday afternoons.

PRINTS AND DRAWINGS

NOTWITHSTANDING the difficulties and limitations which the war has forced upon the Department's activities, we feel that steady progress has been made in our program of internal reorganization. Thus, early in the year, structural changes were made in gallery 11, which is the first of the Department's series of galleries adjoining the main lobby of the Institute. The walls were partly covered with wood and fabric, completely redecorated and a new and better lighting provided. These structural changes will now permit temporary installations.

The attendance in the Print Study Room: 1,134 as against 803 in the previous year seems to indicate that our efforts to publicize the Study Room and its service have had some measure of success, though we feel that a much larger attendance should and can be obtained.

In the print galleries, where it is much more difficult to keep an accurate count, an attendance of 59,093 persons was recorded.

The numerous problems arising out of the physical care for the collection have made a well-equipped workroom an increasing necessity. Early this fall specially designed laboratory equipment for the purpose of examination, cleaning, and restoration of prints and drawings was installed. This laboratory, which is located next to the curator's office, has every modern facility for the proper care and preservation of the department's material. Plans were worked out by the curator in close cooperation with the superintendent, whose excellent advice and great experience were invaluable and highly appreciated.

The Trustees, fully realizing the seriousness of the Department's maintenance problems, have enabled us to add a further assistant to the departmental staff in the capacity of matcutter and framer. The continued growth of the collection had made such an assistant one of our most urgent needs. Mr. Kalman Himmel was engaged in February and he has already done much excellent work on the collection. The matting and framing shop, which was installed in one section of gallery 9, has been further developed. Storage racks for posters and frames have been made and in general the shop has been equipped to function as an efficient departmental unit.

A larger number of exhibitions were arranged in 1943 than usual. Among these, we believe that two were particularly noteworthy: the first was entitled The Discovery of Landscape. In this exhibition a new approach was attempted in displaying important Old Master prints. The original prints were shown together with greatly enlarged photographic details of landscapes which represent small portions of the originals. The details took the place of the usual long explanatory labels, which in our opinion, detract from the visitors' visual experience. The material for this exhibit, which was installed in the Clarence Buckingham Memorial Gallery, was skillfully prepared by Dr. Hedi Nijhoff.

The first exhibition of the fall season, Two Old Masters of Modern Art, James Ensor and Edvard Munch, was opened with a reception and preview on which occasion the Consul General of Belgium and the Consul of Norway were guests of honor. We had succeeded in obtaining an almost complete collection of the printed work of the Belgian artist, James Ensor, through the generous loan of the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Meyer of Forest Hills, Long Island. This was the first exhibit of this artist's work ever to be held in this country. Of the great Norwegian artist, Edvard Munch, the Art Institute's showing was the most comprehensive ever held in the United States.

In our conviction that photography must be considered as much a graphic medium as, for instance, lithography and engraving, this Department has begun to show photographs from time to time. In these exhibits work of a more experimental nature has been stressed.

Particular gratitude is owed to two donors: Carter H. Harrison, who again has given us a number of excellent modern French drawings, and Honoré Palmer, who gave a fine group of early engravings and nineteenth century etchings.

Finally we may report a number of really significant purchases, although important objects in our field were particularly scarce on the art market in the current year. A number of very fine drawings were acquired and it is hoped that these purchases will stimulate interest in this sorely neglected field which is of basic importance to all the arts. An unusually brilliant drawing by Canaletto, a sheet of sketches by Veronese, and a fine early drawing by Renoir are among the most important acquisitions.

A group of Mexican prints and drawings were purchased for us by Mrs. Katharine Kuh during her stay in Mexico last summer. Notable among these is a group of over a hundred prints by José Guadalupe Posada and the original block for a zinc relief etching by the same artist.

It is with pleasure that we announce that William N. Eisendrath, Jr. became a member of the Committee on Prints and Drawings.

In its meeting of December 16 the Board of Trustees voted to promote Hugh F. Edwards to Assistant Curator of Prints and Drawings in recognition of his many years of excellent and devoted service to the Art Institute. Miss Blossom Willens, secretary to the Department, resigned in May to join the Waves. Her duties were taken over by Mrs. Winifred Healey. Mrs. Bergen Evans again generously gave her valuable services as a volunteer until other duties prevented her from continuing her work at the Art Institute.

Our very sincere gratitude to donors, administration, and staff without whose constant help and understanding it would have been impossible to meet the many demands which, we are happy to say, are made increasingly upon this department.

DECORATIVE ARTS

ONE hundred and ninety-four objects were acquired by gift and twenty-eight by purchase, making a total of 222 acquisitions for the Department in the course of the year.

During the year came many gifts of outstanding importance. Among these are two settees and four armchairs, made by Sené in Paris about 1770, having their original Beauvais tapestry covers. These were presented by Mrs. Richard Ely Danielson, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, and Lt. Col. William Deering Howe. The last also gave two late eighteenth century Aubusson tapestries formerly in the possession of King George of Greece. An Enghien tapestry of the sixteenth century was the gift of Mrs. Potter Palmer. Notable also is the fine early Paul Revere silver teapot generously presented by Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp through the Antiquarian Society. Also through the Society, an early eighteenth century American punch strainer was given by Mrs. Phillip Miller who, in addition, gave a walnut American high chest of the same period. A second American punch strainer of fine quality was given by Edward C. Porter. The Antiquarian Society gave a late seventeenth century American oak chest, a maple bowl, an early Paul Revere spoon, and a silver baby rattle mounted with coral, made by Thomas Edwards (1701-1755) of Boston. Mrs. J. Ogden Armour gave an early eighteenth century English embroidered bedspread through the Needlework and Textile Guild, which also donated a length of Philippe de Lasalle brocade. R. Thornton Wilson of New York City continued to express his interest in the Department by the presentation of two rare porcelain figurines of the eighteenth century, attributed to the factory of Hesse-Cassel. Mrs. William J. Piowaty and Dr. Leon Bandler presented a fine English oak refectory table of about 1660.

By far the most important addition to the collections by purchase is a group of twenty-four objects selected from a well-known European private collection. With one exception, a fine early Italian niello, these are all of the medieval period, representing mainly the work of the goldsmith and enamer of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. Several of the pieces are of exceptional significance. This group was acquired from the Kate S. Buckingham Fund for addition to the Lucy Maud Buckingham Memorial.

In addition to the list of exhibitions appended, the group of eighteenth-century porcelain lent by Dr. Ernst Schwarz was amplified by a fine group of early Meissen. A small group of Italian and German Renaissance bronzes and woods were lent by Dr. Erno Wittman, and for some weeks the Department has been working on a large collection of Renaissance medals and plaquettes lent by Sigmund Morgenroth of Santa Barbara which will be placed on exhibition during the coming year. The Department is also grateful to Robert J. Dunham and Charles E. Dunlap for their generous loans of material for the exhibition of Staffordshire pottery figurines. The Department's thanks are due also to many other lenders of interesting material temporarily added to our resources during the year. The relatively small number of special exhibitions arranged by the Department permitted more work than usual to be done in the field of reinstallation and redecoration of galleries with permanent exhibits. The services of the Department were also given to decorative projects in other sections of the building.

Save for a final checking of record cards, the inventory of the Department's collections was completed early in the fall. While making no apparent change in the Department, this is perhaps the most important single task accomplished during the year.

The Thorne Miniature Rooms continue to be in demand and attract large audiences wherever shown. The European series were exhibited this year in Cincinnati, Wilmington, and Cleveland; and the American series in Buffalo, Baltimore, and Providence. During the last two years, the two series have been seen by over four hundred thousand people. A new handbook to the European set was completed and published this summer.

Miss Mildred Davison, in recognition of her long and able service with the Department, was made Assistant Curator in Charge of Textiles.

In spite of rather more than the usual handicap of absences through sickness and other reasons, the Department's staff has been able to keep itself abreast of the demands upon it. Progress made during the year is owing in a large part to the loyal efforts of the remaining staff as well as to the continued support and interest of the officers and administration of the Institute and to its many friends outside.

GALLERY OF ART INTERPRETATION

THE Background of Dutch Painting, arranged in connection with the exhibition of Great Dutch Masters, continued on exhibition until February 1.

From February 4 to April 1 The World at War through the Eyes of Children was shown in this gallery. This was an exhibition of drawings and paintings done by English, French, Chinese, and Spanish refugee children who are being cared for in Quaker hostels.

Next came Emotional Design in Painting, a group of color reproductions and diagrams arranged to show the relation between elementary design and the emotional effect in modern painting.

The Art of Fresco Painting (May 13-December 12) demonstrated the importance of fresco painting in the history of art.

On April 15 Miss Helen Mackenzie resigned from the Art Institute. In May, 1936, she had been appointed the first curator of the newly formed Children's Museum. In 1939 her department was changed to the Gallery of Art Interpretation. In November a new curator was appointed. The first exhibition to be installed under new direction was The People of Bali which opened on December 17.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

WHILE curtailing some of the activities of the Department of Education, the war has been a reason for development in other directions. Free Sunday afternoon gallery tours have been resumed for civilians and service men and women. An information desk in the front lobby for members of the Armed Services is a busy spot on Saturdays and Sundays and is manned by volunteer workers. Mrs. Geneva H. Huston has given generously of her time every Wednesday in conducting brief tours through the galleries for those in the service who wish friendly guidance. Feeling that the splendid documentary films now available about the United Nations should be seen by as many as possible, the Director of Fine Arts asked me to organize a series of them and the result was nine programs on "Nations United for War and Peace" given to interested audiences free in Fullerton Hall. Wednesday noon gallery talks, free to the public, have been well received and prove in one more way that many people are aware of the value of art in war time as well as in peace.

Gas rationing has made visits for the public schools almost impossible.

But Oak Park, Illinois, has sent, as in former years, all of their sixth, seventh, and eighth grades, sixty-seven groups in all. Other suburban and private schools, a few Chicago public schools, and the City Junior Colleges have managed to come, so that our work with schools shows little decrease.

Various women's clubs, religious and business organizations have availed themselves of gallery tours or lectures by the department staff. The head of the department has also given a series of lectures for the Membership Department.

For the eighth year we are indebted to Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett for her generous sponsorship of the thirty free lectures on Thursday evenings in Fullerton Hall. The total attendance of 11,538 indicates the response. This continues to be the most important support of the Department and we are most grateful.

The Chicago Public School Art Society, now affiliated with the Art Institute, also contributes generously to the support of the Department and since the public schools cannot come easily to the Institute, their gift will make it possible for an instructor to go to the schools, a long-desired activity. The Society has sold 180 large reproductions to public schools, bearing half the expense. In December the Art Department of the Chicago Public Schools held a Christmas Fair in Blackstone Hall for the benefit of the Society. Hundreds of objects made by the children caught the fancy of the public and the proceeds were more than gratifying.

For anything as intangible as the value of an educational department, statistics only give an incomplete appraisal. The continuous attendance of many individuals and their assurance of what the various lectures have meant to them in a widening of horizons and a greater understanding of what art is all about is a truer indication. Such cannot be included in a report.

MEMBERSHIP AND EXTENSION LECTURER'S DEPARTMENT

IN ALL, 475 lectures, classes, and programs were presented to Members during 1943. The attendance totaled 99,653.

The Monday morning gallery lectures on the permanent collections by Miss Helen Parker, followed by technical demonstrations by George Buehr, have now become an established feature of the membership program.

The Monday afternoon and evening Clinics of Good Taste, with special accent on home decoration, have been varied this fall with a Field Day Excursion on the second Monday of each month. Our tours have included the Opera Building, the Howard Willett Penthouse, the Chicago Historical Society Museum, the Fourth Presbyterian Church, and the Casino Club. Motion pictures on good taste have been presented the fourth Monday of each month. Stage displays and craft demonstrations with an open forum for questions have occupied the remaining Mondays.

The Adult Sketch Classes for amateurs, Monday evenings and Friday mornings, had a total attendance of 4,799. The summer class on Wednesday mornings had an attendance of 1,146.

The Friday noon Gallery Conversations on the Current Exhibitions, repeated Friday evenings, always tax the capacity of the galleries.

The Friday afternoon History and Enjoyment of Art lectures have had largely to do with contemporary American Sculpture, Architecture, and Painting.

The most popular offering of the department has again been the Art through Travel lectures on Friday evenings, repeated Sunday afternoons. The attendance for the year has been 25,669.

The Saturday and Monday classes for children of Members and selected scholarship pupils of the public grade and high schools of Chicago under the James Nelson and Anna Louise Raymond Fund for Children have had a total attendance of 17,373. The classes consist of sketching from the model six weeks in mid-winter and eight weeks in the summer, and fourteen weeks of lecture demonstrations and home assignments. All work submitted by the children is marked by a critical shorthand system. During the year more than fifteen thousand drawings, sketches, and paintings have been considered.

During Mr. Buehr's and my summer absence, Mrs. Margaret Myers conducted these classes alone with a summer attendance of 2,480.

Miss Jean Watters has been added to the staff of the department.

SCHOOL

THE war continues to make inroads in the administrative and teaching staff of the School. At the beginning of 1943 Norman Rice, Dean of the School, enlisted in the Navy as a Lieutenant. Mr. Rice's liberal administration is responsible for the fine educational policy and good-will apparent in the School.

A total of 241 students and seven faculty and staff members are now in the service. Former students on furloughs come to the School to take up studio work, if only for a limited number of days. This testifies to continued and often enhanced interest in a personal artistic development.

The School is able to report an increase of 36% in the 1943-44 school year registration over that of the school year 1942-43. The increase is due to the greater enrollment in the first year Day School, Evening and Junior Schools, and a greater percentage of part-time schedules. This may be explained in part by the increased financial status of parents and the earning power of the younger student in part-time employment.

The upper school classes are small. The women with partially completed courses have been absorbed by the war industries, utilizing drafting, map making, and teaching techniques. The men, of course, have been called to military duty.

The curriculum of the School has been adjusted to changing conditions: all duplicating classes of small enrollment have been eliminated and an interplay of day and evening classes effected to maintain established courses.

The annual exhibition of student work was held during the month of September.

This year a Student Council has been appointed to work with the Dean's Office in matters pertinent to school conduct. A growing interest in a social focus for the School has led to the equipment of the Properties Room as headquarters for The Art Students' League, Delta Phi Delta, and general student group meetings.

Rudolph Pen, Walter Kamys, and Tesmar Michel were the recipients of the Edward L. Ryerson, James Nelson Raymond, and Anna Louise Raymond Traveling Fellowships. Mexico and the South American countries are the chosen fields for their study.

During the summer recess most of the school studios were repainted. The marked change in the physical appearance of the School produced a favorable reaction in the student body.

A gift of $250 was presented to the School by the Alumni Association. This fund is to be used for the renovation of still life properties and further purchases.

The signs at present, if the tendencies of the September, 1943, registration are any criterion, seem to point to a general stabilizing of enrollment for the war period.

THE GOODMAN THEATRE

THE past year may be written down as one of the most trying in the history of the Goodman Theatre, in spite of the fact that it turned out eventually to be a reasonably satisfactory one, both from the point of view of its functions and of finances. The difficulties had their roots in the war. The student body was seriously affected by the withdrawal of men into the Armed Services. Apart from the consequent drop in the student body, this withdrawal created grave problems in the operation of the theatre which requires a certain minimum of men as actors and back-stage workers. Again, the constant withdrawal of men produced an atmosphere of uncertainty on the part of those who remained, creating a psychological situation hardly conducive to the doing of good work. Meanwhile the load on those who remained behind grew heavier rather than lighter, since there could be no question of cutting down the activities of the school or of the theatre. The second difficulty which temporarily affected the attendance at the productions was the introduction of gasoline rationing. Although the effects of it wore off in a matter of two or three months, they seriously diminished the audiences and box office income for a time.

Now that the year is over it becomes obvious that during the period things balanced quite satisfactorily. It was difficult to find the plays which could be cast within the limitations of the group, but they were found. In the Members' Series the theatre produced: George Washington Slept

Here, The Black Eye, The Importance of Being Earnest, The Late Christopher Bean, Old Acquaintance, There's Always Juliet, Letters to Lucerne, The Shining Hour, and The Dover Road. In the Children's Theatre the plays were: Alice's New Wonderland, The Magic Horn of Charlemagne, Little Black Sambo, and The Elves and the Shoemaker. A statistical summary of the situation shows:

	NUMBER OF PRODUCTIONS	NUMBER OF PERFORMANCES	ATTENDANCE
Members' Series	9	132	69,804
Children's Theatre	4	38	25,115
Studio Theatre	8	14	4,200
Totals	21	184	99,119

In addition twenty-six performances of the Members' Series plays were sold to outside organizations.

RYERSON AND BURNHAM LIBRARIES

SUBSTANTIAL and varied gifts have marked the year. Original records of the 1893 World's Fair, plans for Chicago, San Francisco, Cleveland, and Manila by Daniel Hudson Burnham, together with his professional correspondence and tributes to him, have been received from Daniel and Hubert Burnham. The American Institute of Architects, the firm of Childs and Smith, and Harold F. Nertney have added many worthwhile books to the Burnham Library. Miss Frances Rice gave an interesting photograph of Louis Sullivan. The Ryerson Library has been generously remembered by Mrs. Arthur T. Aldis, Miss Florence D. Bartlett, Carter H. Harrison, Mrs. James M. Sheldon, R. R. McCormick, and many others. Of special note are a set of the famous periodical L'Assiette au Beurre, 1901-1911, from Mrs. William G. Hibbard, a collection of books on Japanese art from Alfred E. Hamill, and a number on Chinese painting from Harley F. MacNair. Miss Louise L. Fergus made a special gift of seventy-six volumes on art history. The Chicago Public Library transferred to the Ryerson Library valuable publications on Rubens and on German iron work of the fifteenth century. Additions to the photograph collection are no less noteworthy; more than 1,300 items of superior quality came from Miss Samuella Crosby, and from Hubert Burnham more than 600 examples of European architecture. Mrs. John H. Wigmore turned over to the Library several thousand post cards illustrating her travels with Col. Wigmore in Europe and Japan. These additions not only replace many worn-out illustrations in our files but have contributed much valuable new material. A set of three-dimensional colored slides of Mrs. Thorne's American rooms, received from the Decorative Arts Department, are available for use in the Library.

The U. S. Office of Indian Affairs is the most recent government agency to make use of the Library; departments of the Army and Navy continued throughout the year to find here information of value in direct connection with the war. Writers preparing material for publication have investigated such matters as stairway construction, or types of building materials used in the United States since 1620. The author of a book on "Weather" consulted illustrations of Greek vase paintings, another, writing on "Greek Personality in Archaic Sculpture," discovered sources not elsewhere available.

Three valued members of the staff resigned to take part in war service; Miss White, Assistant Librarian, retired after long service as head of the Ryerson reference department.

Thus scholarly use of the Library has continued, although the number of graduate and younger students is markedly less. Outside requests by letter or to borrow illustrative material have been received from men in the service stationed at Daytona Beach, the Great Lakes Training Station, and points between. Civilians in thirty states, including Maine, Texas, Oregon, and Georgia have appealed to the Library for aid. Questions about technical methods came from the Library of Congress, the University of Manitoba, and from South Rhodesia.

Due to the enterprise of the Fine Arts Department of the University of Chicago, a Union Catalogue of books on Art, Archaeology, and related fields in Chicago and Northwestern Universities has been practically completed. Means for keeping up-to-date additions to the seven libraries are also provided. This W. P. A. project has been supervised for three years by an expert supplied through a grant from the Carnegie Foundation. The project could not have been carried through and future service assured without the generous cooperation of the Director of the University of Chicago Libraries. The Library and staff of the Art Institute will benefit immeasurably by this bibliographical tool.

The Library is indebted to many Chicago and other libraries for inter-library loan privileges.

DEPARTMENT OF BUILDINGS

OUR Buildings Department, like that of all other museums, has been seriously hampered during the year by the loss of experienced employees due to war conditions and inducements offered by defense plants. Nevertheless it has been able to meet normal demands and particularly the necessary structural improvements held up hitherto by more urgent works.

Among such improvements were the re-roofing and water-proofing of the Hutchinson Wing lobby promenade, an area of approximately 4,770 square feet. Sections of the promenade roof of the Alexander McKinlock Jr. Memorial Court were similarly treated. The entire east outer roof balustrade and steps also the inner balustrade at the east end of the court were rebuilt after water-proofing and securely anchored. Damage caused to the galleries below by leaks was repaired and the galleries redecorated.

The south parapet of McKinlock Court (160 feet long by 8 feet high) was rebuilt with hard burned brick. New saw-tooth skylights were installed over classrooms 107, 127, and 129.

The Restaurant was improved by the addition of a cooler-room which had been sadly needed for a long time for the storage of perishable foods.

The old wooden freight elevator which had been in service for over 45 years was replaced by a new up-to-date metal elevator costing $1100.

To comply with suggestions from the Fire Prevention Bureau, extra fire doors were built in the current property and stage rooms of the Goodman Theatre. A new truck ramp was constructed from Goodman Theatre drive to Court F to facilitate deliveries to the east galleries.

Gunsaulus Hall: Rusty 11 ft. high cast-iron window moldings on the south side were removed, cleaned, and safely re-anchored, a hazardous undertaking considering their location over the Illinois Central tracks. Before long the north side windows will have to undergo similar treatment.

Deteriorated metal sash windows in the workshops had to be replaced by modern glass block windows and each window provided with a wooden transom ventilator made on the premises, resulting in a considerable saving in maintenance cost and improved insulation.

Oriental Art gallery H 14 was divided into three rooms by new tile and plaster partitions, thus gaining more wall exhibition space and a more pleasing gallery arrangement.

Galleries 38, 39, and 40 were newly decorated to house the Chester Dale loan; four other second floor galleries, the Ryerson Library ceiling and walls, Hutchinson Wing lobby, Allerton building, and Reproduction Department were likewise redecorated, as were the entire upper School and several lower School classrooms.

A portion of the Gallery of Art Interpretation was transformed into a Service Men's lounge with new furnishings, thanks to Walter S. Brewster's interest.

Heating Plant: Further extensive and expensive repairs had to be made. Fortunately we were able to secure the service of George Jessie, a competent engineer, who has worked night and day to keep the fifty year old system in serviceable condition.

One employee, the elevator operator William Kennedy, died suddenly, we regret to say, on June 10, 1943.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY

DESPITE two serious handicaps, the Department of Publicity has weathered the difficulties of 1943 and is approaching the new year in a healthy condition. The department not only lost to the Navy for the duration its very able director, Lester Burbank Bridaham, but also struggled with newspaper problems resulting from the War. Due to paper shortages the press has been forced to limit space. Art news must either be very important or very ingenious to compete successfully with global war news in the reduced columns of today's newspapers.

The news services were exceedingly generous to the Art Institute during 1943 and distributed several important stories. The Associated Press alone issued nine articles, the most distinctive of which were those covering the Georgia O'Keeffe Exhibition, the Chester Dale Collection, and the three large annual shows. The Associated Press also distributed several special feature stories such as an interview with G. E. Kaltenbach, Museum Registrar and Keeper of the Archives, and another with William Ford of the Shipping Department. International News Service and the United Press likewise issued stories about the Art Institute. Other national publicity was obtained through two articles in Newsweek, one on the Chicago and Vicinity show and the other on a Quilt Exhibition sponsored by the Department of Decorative Arts. Time Magazine covered the Georgia O'Keeffe Exhibition. The local press was most generous in regard to the Road to Victory Exhibition and the Chester Dale loan. The Chicago Daily Times featured the former in two editorials and The Chicago Sun ran an editorial on the Fort Custer show. The Chicago Daily News in the Saturday rotogravure section, entitled News Views, featured eight stories on the Art Institute, most important of which were the Road to Victory Exhibition, the American show, and the newly installed laboratory in the Print and Drawing Department. C. J. Bullett, Art Editor of the Daily News, wrote an excellent series of special articles on several of the masterpieces from the Chester Dale Collection. In the Sunday supplements of the Chicago Daily Tribune several times during the year appeared color photographs featuring important exhibitions, and reproducing with great fidelity paintings by Georgia O'Keeffe and the Fort Custer Army Illustrators. The Milwaukee Journal also published several groups of color photographs. The Publicity Department attempted to reach and interest many different sections of the local press; naturally the art columns, but also the news columns, special feature pages, the sports page, society columns, book pages, and fashion sections.

Every third week on Saturday mornings WMAQ carried a dramatic radio program devoted to the Art Institute and entitled "At the Foot of Adams Street." This program was discontinued late last spring. It is hoped that shortly a new radio series can be arranged.

An effective promotion which aroused much interest was the handsome group of window displays on State Street at Carson, Pirie, Scott and Co. The store incorporated original water colors from the Art Institute in the windows and in addition announced very adroitly the simultaneous opening of the International Water Color Exhibition.

Due to the generous help of various members of the staff and to the cooperation of many kind friends connected with the Chicago newspapers, the new Public Relations Counsel was greatly aided. Special thanks should be given to Viola Thorkelson, secretary of this department, who patiently and willingly assisted in every way.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF FINANCE AND OPERATION

To the President and Governing Members of The Art Institute of Chicago:

THE Art Institute received during the year Endowment Funds amounting to $127,233.58, of which $74,264.95 is restricted and $52,968.63 is unrestricted. The most important new fund received during the year was the Mattie A. Loring Fund of $33,779.12. Other new funds were the Joseph Adams Fund of $11,938.50 and the Alonzo C. Mather Fund of $10,000.

Additions to Endowment Funds were as follows:

Kate S. Buckingham Fund	$28,745.73
Life Membership Fund	23,991.00
Insurance Fund	7,500.00
Carrie Ryerson Fund	4,833.33
James Nelson Raymond Foreign Traveling Fellowship Fund	2,000.00
Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany Blake Fund	2,000.00
Broadus James Clarke Memorial Fund	1,100.00
Employees' Loan and Benefit Fund	720.04
Martin A. Ryerson Fund	417.68
Dearborn Seminary Scholarship Fund	170.88
Stella Jerome Prager Fund	37.30

From the Chicago Park District $121,642.39 was received as compared with $138,501.22 last year.

It is encouraging to be able to report an improvement in the operating income of several departments of the Museum.

Gross receipts of the Membership Department were $65,738.50, which is an increase of 20.96% over last year, while there was a slight decrease in the expenses of the department. Of this increase, $4,658 represents a gain in annual membership fees which indicates an increasing interest on the part of the public in the activities of the Art Institute. Additions of $23,991 to the Life Membership Fund brought the fund to $1,557,877.78. Total memberships are now 13,965 which is a gain of 406 as compared with last year.

The Reproduction sales for the year were $13,447.14, which is an increase of 45.3% over last year.

The receipts of the Restaurant were $75,598.25 as compared with $38,431.06 last year. Notwithstanding the high cost of food and increased wages paid, the Restaurant was operated with a narrow margin of profit, without materially raising prices. This surplus was applied to the installation of a cooler-room, which had become a necessity. During the year 282,765 persons were served.

In addition to balancing the Budget, the Museum paid $24,210.90 for Museum roofs, $2,009.07 for School roofs, and $11,563.91 for necessary repairs, all of which are enumerated in the Superintendent's report. Total expenditures for Extraordinary Repairs and Maintenance amounted to $37,783.88.

The financial situation at the Goodman Theatre at this time, which is the middle of the fiscal year, is satisfactory, the budget showing a surplus equivalent to that of last year. There are indications that the enrollment for the second term will be better than that of last year. Attendance at performances of Members' Plays has been normally good and the Children's Theatre attendance has been excellent.

The School Budget has improved materially this year. This favorable trend is due to the fact that the staff of the school is being used to capacity, and to the unexpected increase in the enrollment of the fall term, which shows a gain of 36% over that of the previous year. It is difficult to forecast the future, but the administration is keeping a flexible attitude, in an effort to cope with changing conditions. The School is looking forward to a possible rehabilitation program on the part of the Government which may bring discharged military men to the School, and to a post war need for artists, which will encourage the enrollment of new students.

In addition to important gifts of art objects, which appear elsewhere in this report, the following gifts of cash were received from friends of the Art Institute:
